

Online lesen

Datum: 19.04.2018

Hannah Wise @hannahwisecnn | 1 hour ago

"Companies have accepted that the rules will change," says Christoph Schaerer of PwC

The digital economy has led to new tax debates, with the E.U. now considering rules to ensure that "digital business activities are taxed in a fair and growth-friendly way." According to Christoph Schaerer of PwC, companies are aware that tax rules are set to change.

Click here to see the full interview.