“PwC NextGen is a transformational journey with the most diverse group of inspiring NextGens that you will consider amongst some of your best friends.”
Stasshani Jajawardena, Director Stassen Group of Companies, Executive Director Aitken Spence PLC, Sri Lanka
Today, businesses and individuals face the challenge of responding to multiple crises in a fast-evolving environment. The rapid changes currently underway bring profound implications for family enterprises – and most of all for you, as a NextGen leader. Why? Because both incumbent- and next-generation members must manage continuous change while maintaining a consistent presence to retain stakeholders’ trust. But as a NextGen leader, you will have to balance these conflicting priorities for many years to come. As you set out on your lifelong journey of leadership discovery, the key question for you as an entrepreneur is this: How can you act as a responsible steward of your family legacy while also being catalyst for much-needed change? The answer touches on all of your potential roles in the family enterprise, whether as responsible shareholder, competent board member or visionary leader. It also has major implications for your skills, education and succession path.

Trust for a transforming generation

The capabilities and strategies that drive business success are changing. Our 2022 Global NextGen Survey reveals that 72% of your peers expect to play a role in increasing their family enterprise’s focus on investing in sustainability in the future. This – alongside other emerging challenges – will demand new skills, qualifications and approaches.

To help you meet this need, PwC NextGen is here to encourage you to think beyond the traditional MBA, by providing you with an exclusive and inclusive strategic network and a broad range of multidisciplinary learning opportunities through Connect. Learn. Lead. Our 2023 NextGen offerings are outlined in this brochure. Join us this year to explore the tactics, tools and processes that can make the difference between faltering and flourishing in times of difficulty and disruption. Together we will master the common threads – including the ability to earn and maintain trust – that define those companies that are able to build resilience and emerge stronger from a crisis.

Do you consider yourself a member of a transforming generation? Then I look forward to meeting you in person – and to all the things we will accomplish together this year!

New York

If you haven’t yet visited the most densely populated major city in the United States, this is your chance. If you have, come again – and see how this most vibrant of cities has been evolving. Located at the southern tip of New York State, the city constitutes the geographical and demographic center of both the Northeast megalopolis and the New York metropolitan area. Booming with diversity, culture, history and innovation, New York radiates an energy that is best experienced in person. From a robust culinary scene to larger-than-life attractions, there’s plenty to explore across the five boroughs. However, the majority of our Academy activities will take place in Midtown Manhattan.

“I can absolutely recommend the Leader Academy. It provided me with an opportunity to learn, share and build a network of peers to discuss how we can take on the next chapter of our family businesses.”

1. General
PwC NextGen 2023, which is offered by PwC and its affiliate companies, offers young people in family businesses (participants) the chance to participate in “PwC NextGen 2023” (program). By registering, the participant – as well as their legal guardian in the case of minors (i.e. participants younger than 18 on the first day of the program) – accepts the following terms and conditions:

2. Scope of services offered by the program
The scope of services is described in the PwC NextGen 2023 brochure.

3. Registration
Participation in the program is binding upon receipt of written registration via fax or email. In the event of unforeseen circumstances (e.g., sickness or accident on the part of third parties, weather, safety risks, measures by the authorities or force majeure), every effort is taken to offer equivalent replacement services. No claims may be made against the organizer on account of changes to the program or cancellation of services.

4. Liability of the organizer
The organizer reserves the right to modify the program or individual services of the program, or to cancel these completely, in the event of unforeseen circumstances (e.g., sickness or accident on the part of third parties, weather, safety risks, measures by the authorities or force majeure). Every effort is taken to offer equivalent replacement services. No claims may be made against the organizer on account of changes to the program or cancellation of services.

5. Insurance and additional duties of the participant or his legal guardian
The participant or their legal guardian is aware that the program also includes external events. The organizer may employ third parties to carry out some of these activities.

The participation fee does not include any special requests on the part of the participant. If the organizer accommodates special requests, these are billed separately.

The organizer reserves the right to refuse participation in individual activities at any time, even if this is at short notice based on scientific or medical advice. The participant or their legal guardian is aware that the program also includes external events. The organizer may employ third parties to carry out some of these activities.

6. Code of conduct and exclusion
During the program, the participant is unconditionally obliged to follow the instructions of the organizer and any of its authorized third parties. Participants can be excluded from the program at any time if they fail to behave appropriately, continually disturb the running of the program, do not follow the instructions of the organizer or its authorized third parties, or jeopardize the safety of other participants. All costs incurred because of the exclusion from the program are borne by the participant. The participation fee will not be reimbursed.

7. Payment terms
The program fee is payable upon receipt of invoice by either the participant or their legal guardian. The organizer reserves the right to deny participation in the program or in specific services offered by the program in the event of default on payment, as well as to give the place to a third party.

8. Cancellation by the organizer
The program will only take place if there are sufficient participants. If the minimum number of participants is not met, the organizer reserves the right to cancel the program no later than one month before it is due to commence. In this event, any payments already made toward the participation fee will be reimbursed to the participant or legal guardian. If there are too many registrations, the organizer reserves the right to refuse some of them, thereby preventing the participation of certain individuals.

9. Cancellation by the participant
In the event of cancellation on behalf of the participant, the organizer reserves the right to demand the following cancellation fees to cover the costs incurred:
- 50% of the fee between 12 and 8 weeks before the start of the program
- 100% of the fee less than 8 weeks before the start of the program.

Cancellation must be in writing. Cancellation fees will be calculated based on the postdate. Should the participant leave the program prematurely, they would have no claim to reimbursement of the participation fee. Any additional costs incurred or to be incurred are borne by the participant.

10. Rights to pictures
The participant or their legal guardian consents to the non-remunerable use of their image and voice in all present and future media, i.e. photographs and recordings (image and sound) taken and made by the organizer or its authorized third parties, to publicize the program or in specific services offered by the program in the event of default on payment, as well as to give the place to a third party.

11. Applicable law and court of competent jurisdiction
German law is applicable to this agreement. The sole court of competent jurisdiction is Frankfurt am Main.

12. Miscellaneous
Should one or several provisions in these terms and conditions prove to be partly or wholly invalid, void or otherwise unenforceable, there is no infringements on the validity of all other provisions.

Only the German wording of these terms and conditions into a language other than German serve only to facilitate communication between the organizer and the participants and their legal guardians, and are therefore not legally binding.

For programs conducted in the United States of America, Business Schools are required by law to conduct a scan of relevant restrictions on transactions with international persons (e.g. check if the participant or their business is listed on the sanction list of the Office of Foreign Asset Control, “OFAC”).

The participant or their legal guardian are responsible for making themselves familiar with such restrictions and for assessing whether those restrictions apply to them.

They are also responsible for – and accordingly bear the risk of – being rejected by the Business School in the event that they do not pass the scan.
