On 19 May 2019, the Swiss population voted by a large majority in favour of the Federal Act on Tax Reform and AHV Financing (STAF). The aim of the STAF bill and its implementation in the cantons is to achieve international acceptance of Swiss corporate taxation. The changes will affect the Swiss Federal Act on Direct Federal Tax (DBG) and the Tax Harmonisation Act (StHG) in particular and will include abolition of the cantonal tax status (privileged taxation of holding companies, mixed companies and domiciliary companies) and the introduction of internationally recognised substitute measures.

On 14 May 2019, in a first reading, the Cantonal Council of the canton of Appenzell Ausserrhoden approved the cantonal legislative proposal for implementation of the STAF bill in the canton of Appenzell Ausserrhoden. The public discussion ended without input on 7 June 2019. A second reading will follow. If a referendum were to be held, this would take place in 2020.

The cantonal bill is due to enter into force (retroactively if necessary) on 1 January 2020.

The following page provides an overview of the most important changes to the law with an impact on corporate taxation.

Overview of the most important planned legislative changes with their effects on corporate taxation in Appenzell Ausserhoden

Changes to capital tax
The taxable equity of all legal entities will now be subject to simple capital tax at a rate of 0.065‰ (effective tax burden of 0.5‰); the taxable equity will be subject to a reduction in the ratio of qualifying investments, patents qualifying for the patent box and loans to group companies in relation to total assets.

Partial taxation of dividends
There will be a change at the cantonal level from the previous half-rate taxation of dividends for private shareholders to partial taxation of the same at a rate of 60%.

Special rate when changing status
If transitioning from privileged taxation (holding or domiciliary entity) to ordinary taxation, the hidden reserves in place when execution of this law commences, including any self-created added value, will be subject to separate taxation if realised within the next five years.

Step-up according to the old legislation
The step-up under the old legislation will be abolished on 1 January 2020 and replaced by a special tariff. The tariff will be adjusted to 1.3% from 2020 to 2022, and to 2.6% from 2023 to 2024.

Reduction of the corporate income tax rate
The statutory corporate income tax rate for the canton of AR will remain at 6.5%, resulting in an effective tax burden (direct federal taxes and AR cantonal taxes) of 13.04%.

Patent box
Upon request, the net profit from patents and similar rights is to be included in the calculation of the taxable net profit in the ratio of the qualifying research and development expenses to the total research and development expenses per patent/similar right (nexus quotient) with a reduction of 50%. When the reduction is granted, the research and development expenses already recognised in previous tax periods are added to the taxable net profit and a taxed hidden reserve is created in this amount.

R&D deduction
Research and development expenses incurred directly by the taxpayer or indirectly via third parties in Switzerland will on request be approved for deduction at 150%.

Relief limit
A relief limit of 50% is to be introduced. This ensures that at least 50% of the taxable result is always subject to ordinary taxation before loss carry-forwards and the deduction of reductions.
